Loyal Order of Moose Will Be Instituted in Antioch Friday Night

100 Petitions Make New Lodge Here Now A Certainty

A lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose will be established in Antioch tomorrow evening through initiation exercises conducted in the Masonic temple at 8 p. m.

Petitions of 100 prospective members are in the hands of J. J. Cherwin, membership director, working out of Moosheart, Ill., and they have been notified to be present for the exercises. Fifty will be placed on the charter list.

The initiation will be supervised by Otto W. Meyers, regional director, and the Aurora degree team, champions of Illinois, will exemplify the work for the benefit of the new initiates.

Cherwin said that the lodge once started will obtain its own lodge and club rooms, but that a membership of 200 which is the immediate goal will be necessary.

Several county political leaders and prominent members of the lodge will be present at tomorrow night's services.

Crops Aided by Rains and Warm Weather Advanced Over Other Years by Far

Although Antioch did not get the rain yesterday that sections east of here did, the shower was greatly appreciated by gardeners and farmers in general.

Warm weather and a suitable amount of moisture are giving all crops a good start here this year. Oats and barley are growing nicely and pastures are lush. Fruit is coming along nicely and the only hope now is that there will be no late frost.

Corn planting is now in progress.

Emergency Repair Made On Village Water Pump, Water Shortage Averted

Replacements of Turbine Parts in Reserve is Fortunate

The larger of the two pumps of the village's water works failed over the weekend but fortunately replacements were in reserve and repairs were made so that it was back in use today.

Care of the pumps requires that they be "pulled" every seven years, but when the power record two years ago showed the pump to be operating perfectly at the end of seven years, no effort was made to pull it.

Fred Peterson and Bill Thieman in charge at that time, purchased new equipment, however, for emergency purposes, and when over Sunday the power shot up, Walter Scott, superintendent, checked and found that the pump was drawing but very little water.

An engineer was summoned from Brookfield, Ill., and he said that the well is as good as ever with water within 43 feet of the top, but that the cups and other parts of the turbine were worn out.

The smaller pump was given the entire load while repairs were made Tuesday and Wednesday, and today with the start of the larger pump the engineer will shut off the smaller pump and inspect it for possible needed repairs.

President George B. Bartlett said that care is being taken to see that no riley water enters the mains.

Grass Lake Cub Scouts To Play Baseball With Dads on Monday Night

The recently organized Cub Scout Pack of Grass Lake will play an exhibition baseball game with a team made up of fathers of the boys on Monday evening at 7 o'clock. The game will be played at the Grass Lake school diamond.

The game is certain to furnish a lot of amusement for the spectators, for some of the old timers will no doubt find out that they are not so limber as they were years ago.

Committees for the new pack include: Cubmaster, Fred Dittmer; Herbert Meyers, Asst. master; Chairman Warren Edwards; John Steitz, member.

Den mothers are Irene Lehmann, Elsie Steitz, Lydia Edwards and Florence Dittmer.

Kay Himens Gets Award At College of St. Francis

Kay Himens, daughter of Mrs. Lucy J. Himens, a sophomore at the College of St. Francis, Joliet, was awarded second place in the recent writing contest sponsored by the English department for her essay, "Mrs. Wiggins and Mr. Bell." Her prize was "The Life of Mother Cabrini" by Mabel Farum.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Vincent J. Flynn, president of St. Thomas college, judged the entries. Awards were also made in a short story section.

Miss Himens was recently elected alternate delegate to the United States National Student Association. She was secretary of the St. Francis delegation for the past year.

Salem Township Adopts New Ruling Requiring Permits for Building

The township of Salem, Wis., has passed a new ruling that a permit must be obtained from the town clerk for all new building.

A fee of $1 will be charged for the permit regardless of the valuation.

"The purpose of this ruling," said the clerk, "is to see that all improvements are placed on the assessment roll and this gives the town the opportunity to do so."

The township has no zoning laws or requirements on construction. Cards have been printed which will be issued to the licensee who will attach it to the building he is constructing or remodeling.

Masons Incorporate to Get New Building for Local Lodge and O.E.S.

Sequoit Temple Association Takes Over Present Lodge Bldg.

The start of a movement to provide a new Masonic lodge temple for Antioch was made this week with the incorporation of the Sequoit Temple association which takes the maintenance of the present building from the hands of the lodge and gives opportunity to raise money for a new one.

The Sequoit Temple association has for its incorporators, Luster S. Badger, and John Gaa, past masters; S. Boyer Nelson, Adrian Vanderkloot, and William Terry, Charles E. Jack, Waukegan, filed the papers which state that the association, is non-profit seeking, is civic, social and charitable in its nature.

"The idea of a new temple is something for the future, but we are starting toward that goal," said one of the incorporators.

The lodge now has its rooms on the second floor and in the basement of 883 Main st. The first floor is occupied by the township library.

It is probable that the Antioch lodge working through this association will strive for a new building in the same manner that Millburn now is.

Incorporation charters were issued by Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, at Springfield.

Sports-Home Queens Chosen for Show at Lake Villa June 20-26

Shirley Ross and Jackie Schroeder of the Antioch community survived the elimination among 27 contestants for the title of Miss Sports and Miss Homes at the Coronation dance of the Chain O' Lakes council in the Armory at Waukegan Saturday evening but the high honors went to Florence Lindell of Lake Forest and Anita Scott of Libertyville.

Miss Scott, sponsored by the Libertyville Community club will be Miss Sports queen, and Miss Lindell, sponsored by the Viking Ladies, will be Miss Homes at the Sports and Home show at Lake Villa June 20 to 26.

It was thought possible that with the many entries from this community one of the honors might land here, but such was not the decision of the five judges, Ada Leonard, actress; the Rogo sisters, professional models; June Darling, book agent; and Jim Hamilton, radio announcer, who were unanimous in their choice.

Those who saw the parade of the contestants agree that the only thing the winners had that the Antioch girls didn't have was the experience of appearing in public for as to charm and pulchritude they were tops. Their nervousness cut down on their score which involved appearance as well as figure, personality, and general charm.

MariAnne's of Libertyville and Antioch has donated a complete ensemble to the two winners of the beauty contest.

Chief A. A. McMillen 82, Uncle of Antioch's Fire Chief, Will Be Honored

Convention at Grayslake to Recognize's Chief's Fiftieth Year

The annual convention of the Lake County Firemen's association on Saturday, May 28, at Grayslake, will be known as McMillen Day in honor of Fire Chief A. A. McMillen's 50th year of service on the Grayslake Volunteer Fire department.

McMillen, uncle of Antioch's fire chief, Jim McMillen, helped organize the Grayslake department in 1899; was elected "hook and ladder foreman," and in 1901 was elected fire chief, a position he still holds at the age of 82 years.

He has helped the department grow from a bucket brigade to hand pumps and hand drawn hose carts to gasoline engine pumps, and then to the self-propelled vehicles of today.

"Mac" as he is affectionately known to his friends, was mayor of Grayslake for 14 years, village marshal under six mayors, and deputy county sheriff under four sheriffs. He is a member of "The International Association of Fire Chiefs."

The celebration will start at noon with the inspection of equipment from each visiting department and a parade including both antique and new equipment, floats and bands.

There will be speeches by honorable Chief McMillen after the parade. Then there will be such contests as three man hose hook-up, five-man truck hook-up and water fights. Supper will be served to all attending firemen.

Prizes will be offered for floats best portraying anything in connection with fire prevention, fire protection or fire equipment, or anything honoring Chief McMillen, according to R. S. Rockenbach, chairman.

Burial was at West Riverside.

There were 22 exhibits ranging from poultry raising to metal and wood crafts, and they attracted favorable attention. They were viewed by the public from 2 to 9 p. m.

Two hundred and fifty boys took part in the opening parade from the Scout House to the school building. Antioch supplied two floats.

At the school Cubs presented skits on the auditorium stage. In the O'Grady drill a member of the Poplar Grove troop was the winner.

A plaque was presented to the host troop and each boy taking part in the day's events was given a neckerchief slide by John Noel, chairman of the district.

Sequoits Lose Ballgame To Wauconda High 10-8; Play Northbrook Friday

Although Antioch High played aggressive ball all the way, Wauconda High shaded them a little in hitting and won there Tuesday evening 10 to 8.

The game followed a rain and the diamond was a little muddy. Three passes paved the way for Antioch's scores, while Wauconda took advantage of misplays. Wauconda had 10 runs, 10 hits and 3 errors, and Antioch 8 runs, 7 hits, and 4 errors.

The Sequoits will play Northbrook here tomorrow evening and Palatine here Tuesday evening. On the following Friday Antioch will play at Ingleside.

Several track men will participate in the conference track and field meet this evening at Palatine. The meet was changed from last night on account of wet grounds.

Coach Kruzan said he planned to retain for the baseball game Tuesday some of the track men who play baseball and only send those who have a chance to win points to the county track meet at Waukegan on that day. He expects George Miller to make a good showing in the mile that day, with Wilton participating in the high jump and high hurdles.

Soph-Fresh Lose-Win

The sophomore-freshmen baseball team lost to Barrington there Monday 5 to 2. Antioch had the game won up to the last inning and the other team had but two hits, errors cost the winning runs.

The underclassmen won from Zion there Saturday morning, however, 6 to 1. The Papposes sewed up the game early and played a tight defensive game.

Otto Klass Is In Waukegan Hospital

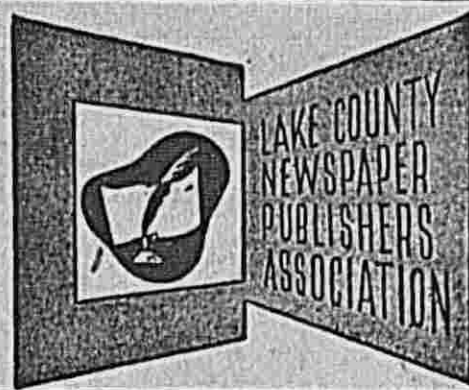

Otto S. Klass, well-known clothing merchant of Antioch, underwent a major operation at St. Therese hospital, Waukegan on Tuesday. A second operation is scheduled to be performed in about a week.

Failing health during the past few months is thought to have been responsible for his condition at present, which is described as serious.

Shall We Trust To Luck?

America's fire waste has long been a national disgrace. Yet, in some respects, we're a great deal luckier than we deserve to be. Many a fire has all the earmarks of a major disaster—but, through a combination of happy circumstances, is held in check.

To take a typical example, such a blaze recently started in the small hours of the morning in a 50-year old building in Portland, Oregon. The upper floors of the structure had been made into small apartments, most of which were occupied by elderly people. But luck was with these potential victims. Due to the prompt sounding of the alarm and the fine efficiency of the fire department, all of the residents were evacuated without serious injury, and the property damage was pretty much limited to ground floor shops. What would have happened if the gods of fortune had looked the other way, is easily imagined—there might have been another tragedy comparable to the Illinois hospital fire, and the Chicago and Atlanta hotel catastrophes.

Do we want to take a chance on luck being with us? Do we want to work on the theory that maybe we'll escape unscathed if fire strikes? That is what millions of us do, and sometimes it works. But when it doesn't work, people die horribly.

We can't prevent every fire, but the experts say we can prevent the great majority of them. On the part of the community there must be modern, well-enforced building codes, inspections, etc. On the part of the individual, there must be care with such obvious causes of fire as smoking materials, heating plants and electrical equipment. Then we won't be trusting blindly to luck.

Proven National Defense

The unification of the Armed Forces has long been a controversial issue. Everyone agrees that we must get the most possible defense for each dollar spent, and that wasteful duplication and overlapping should be eliminated in the interest of both economy and efficiency. However, there is a grave danger that, in seeking these desirable ends, we may do inestimable damage to our military effectiveness.

As an example, several changes in the unification law have been proposed. In the view of experts, they could result in the elimination of the Marine Corps and Naval Aviation, with the first being absorbed into the Army and the second into the Air Force. To all practical purposes, both might disappear.

This—like the fight against the construction of new larger carriers for the Navy—is based on the claim of Air Force partisans that the land-based plane can do practically everything should another war come, a claim as yet unproven. Within a few days after war begins, they say, we will disrupt and paralyze the enemy's industry, communications, lines of supply, and so destroy his capacity to fight. Therefore, why carry the burden of great navies and ground forces?

That story had its exact counterpart at the beginning of the last war. Goering, to take a single example, was absolutely convinced his Luftwaffe could bring England to her knees. Yet, in the actual course of the war, navies, with aircraft carriers, proved absolutely essential. So did the land armies. The traditional weapons, no less than the new, played vital roles.

Nothing has yet appeared to substantially change the picture. We hear talk of planes which will girdle the world with huge loads. But those planes do not as yet exist. In the meantime, national security demands a fair balance between the various fighting services and the retention and further development of forces—such as the Marines and Naval Air—which have proven themselves so magnificently.

The County school committee decided Thursday evening to postpone until May 23 action upon a motion to enlarge the Wilmot high school district.

The committee held a public hearing at the Community hall in Bristol, but opinions and questions of citizens and taxpayers failed to provide the committee with a definite program.

The motion before the hearing was that all land west of Highway 41, not now in a high school district, would be included in the new, enlarged Wilmot high school district. Bristol and Paris township residents, some of whom are 16 miles from the present high school, said they wanted more time to think the matter over before deciding if they wanted to become part of the new district.

George W. Taylor, who conducted the hearing for the committee, proposed a substitute motion that Paris and Bristol be excluded from the new district and the Wilmot high school board accept all the rest of the western end of Kenosha Co. Members of Wilmot school board declined to express their opinion on such a move and no action was taken.

Taylor emphasized that if any solution to crowded conditions at the Wilmot high school was going to be reached this year, action on the school district must come quickly. On May 23, Taylor ordered another public hearing to be held, a move which was expected to give residents of all townships time to consider the issue more carefully. Time and place of the meeting are to be named. Principal concern of Bristol and Paris residents in joining the new district apparently is the location of the high school. If the district is enlarged, construction of a new school or an addition to the present school will be planned.

Bristol and Paris residents expressed a desire for a "centrally located" school. Taylor, however, explained that the county school committee has no authority in determining the location of schools. "We can only establish boundaries and change boundaries," Taylor said. "It is up to the people in the district to decide where the school is going to be."

Miss Margaret Diehl, county superintendent of schools, introduced figures that showed 540 children attend high schools from the towns of Somers, Pleasant Prairie, Bristol and Paris. There are 230 high school students in the other four Kenosha county townships at the west end, Brighton, Wheatland, Randall and Salem, according to Miss Diehl.

High school students from each township are as follows: Brighton 25, Bristol 93, Paris 44, Pleasant Prairie 224, Randall 17, Salem 61, Somers 179, Wheatland 20 and village of Twin Lakes 7.

Members of the county school committee are Michael C. Kolowski, Kenosha; Edna Thom, Union Grove; Mrs. Susan Beyers, Twin Lakes; Fred Schmalfeldt, Silver Lake; Taylor, Kenosha; and Mrs. Raymond Murdoch, Bristol. Miss Diehl is secretary of the committee.

Members of the Wilmot school board are Alfred Oetting, Wilmot; Glenn Pacey, Trevor and Donald VanderZee, Silver Lake; M. M. Schnurr is principal of the school.

You American citizens who have been looking for an opportunity to take some aggressive action which will express faith in your country are now being given that chance. It is participation in the U. S. Savings Bonds Division's "Spring Opportunity Drive" which opens May 16. Through this drive you can help in the preservation of a prosperous economy in your land and show the world that Americans, men and women, still have that spark which has led the country to "accomplish the impossible". Volunteer workers are needed to help in this great drive and this is your opportunity to prove that you have the courage to protect the freedoms that are ours. Your community, your county, your state, and your country needs your help. Volunteer today.

STATE GAS TAXES AND CONSUMER PRICES IN THE U.S.

Illinois with one of the lowest gasoline taxes in the country pays more per gallon for gasoline than neighboring states where the tax is higher. As an example, Iowa, with a 4 cent tax pays only 25.6 cents per gallon for gasoline while in Illinois with our 3 cent tax, the cost to the motorist is 26.1 cents. Nebraska with a 5 cent tax pays 25.7 cents a gallon. Michigan, with the same tax as we have in Illinois pays 25.7 cents per gallon in comparison to our 26.1 cents. Maine, with a 6 cent gasoline tax pays a gallonage price of 25.5 cents and Oregon, with a 5 cent tax pays but 25 cents a gallon. The figures used in the above table are from an official source, the United States Public Roads Administration. They are the latest available, and show that an increase in the tax on gasoline does not mean an increase in the price of the fuel to the motorist.

Studebaker buying wave sweeps the nation!

Another all-time record in April!

More people bought new Studebaker cars and trucks in April 1949 than in any previous month in any year.

Studebaker sales in January, February, and March were the biggest for any quarter in Studebaker history.

Twice this year Studebaker has increased production in an attempt to meet this sensational upsurge in demand.

1949 is a Studebaker year!

Studebaker's really rolling!

Officers of the Antioch Grade school PTA who will serve during the coming school year were installed at a meeting of the organization Monday evening. Mrs. Fern Lux acting as installing officer, inducted the following corps of officers, Mrs. Donald Stowe, president; Mrs. Lloyd Murrie, vice president; Mrs. Fred Yates, secretary; Mrs. Louis Horton, treasurer; and Mrs. C. R. Johnston, historian. Mrs. Donald Gibbs, president for last year, commended her committees for outstanding work achieved, and the history for the year was read by Historian Mrs. Ranney.

A feature of the program was the presentation of several readings by Mrs. Bette Meyers. Mrs. Meyers was introduced by Mrs. Morris Pickus.

Three grades, the first, fourth, and seventh, tied for the largest attendance of parents for the evening. The fifth grade was awarded the $5 prize for having had the most parents visit their room during the year.

A committee headed by Mrs. T. R. Birkhead and Mrs. Masopust served refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting.

Legion Auxiliary Honors Gold Star Mothers and Sisters

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 748 honored Gold Star Mothers, sisters and widows at a meeting held last Friday evening. Many Gold Star Mothers were present and a lunch was served at beautifully decorated tables following the meeting.

An enjoyable part of the program was a presentation of the Brownies, who sang several songs. The Brownies are under the leadership of Mrs. Louis Biel, accompaniment was by Mrs. A. H. Kaufmann. The Brownies organization is sponsored by the Auxiliary.

A citation for participation in the department five-point plan was received and read at this meeting. An additional citation for gains in membership was also received.

Final plans for Poppy Day, to be held on Saturday, May 28, were made. Members who were unable to attend the meeting, and who will be able to help on Poppy Day are asked to contact Mrs. John Horan, Jr., Poppy Day chairman.

Mrs. L. C. Heath, Gold Star chairman, and her committee were commended for the fine work accomplished during the year. Next regular meeting of the organization will be held at the Legion home on Friday, May 27.

Mrs. Robert Runyard, 303 Park Avenue, is a patient at Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan.

County's Cancer Drive Now 87 Percent of Quota and Two More Units Over Top

At the close of last week, Lake county had raised $20,693.08 in the 1949 cancer fund drive. This is 87 percent of the quota of $23,800 set when the drive opened April 1.

Dr. Arnold E. Osterberg, of Waukegan, general chairman, said that contributions are still coming in and that he is confident the goal will be reached in a few days.

"Many persons who intend to support the cancer program have neglected to send in their checks," he said. "If they would turn in their contributions this week, we could wind up the drive without delay. I urge them to remember that every dollar brings closer the day when cancer can be conquered."

Two more communities were over the top this week, joining Waukegan and Antioch, which had topped their quotas last week. The new 100 per centers are Highland Park and Highland.

Highland Park, with E. J. Loewenthal, 257 Moraine ave., as chairman, reported $5,100 or 102 per cent of its quota. Highland, with Chief of Police Ted Benvenuti as chairman, reported $502.78, or 126 per cent of its quota.

Two other communities are past the 90 per cent mark. They are Lake Forest, 97 percent, and Lake Zurich 95 percent. Mrs. Donald P. Welles, 361 N. Ahwahnee rd., is Lake Forest chairman and Mrs. Fred French, Prairie View, Lake Zurich chairman.

Percentages in other communities: Lake Villa 89 percent; Lake Bluff, 78 percent; Waukegan-North Chicago 75 percent; Zion 63 percent; Libertyville-Mundelein 58 per cent; Fox Lake 50 percent; Deerfield, 48 percent and Grayslake 47 percent.

County headquarters for the campaign are at the American Cancer Society Information Center, 133 Belvidere St., Waukegan. Contributions may be sent there or to the local community chairmen.

V. F. W. and Legion To Meet For First Game on New Field

Village President Geo. B. Bartlett will toss out the first baseball on Sunday, May 29, at the newly improved ball field on the high school property, when the local V. F. W. team will tangle with the American Legion team for the first home game of the season.

The field, which lies east of the railroad tracks on the high school grounds, has been improved and put into first class shape by courtesy of the Lions Club, which appropriated $500 for the purpose.

Both the Legion and V. F. W.

teams will use the field as home grounds during the season. Herman Holbek, chairman for the Lions club indicated today that a committee with representatives of all three organizations would be formed to work out a schedule which would not conflict.

Interest in both the teams which will meet on the 29th is high and it is believed that a large crowd will be present at the opener.

Students Urged to Apply For Social Security Numbers Now

Anticipating the annual June rush for social security numbers, Bernard Banett, manager of the Waukegan, Ill., Social Security office urged all high school students who do not have social security cards and are planning to work during the summer to apply for their numbers without delay.

If a card has been lost it takes several days to locate the original number and this may cause inconvenience both the student and the employer.

"Your employer will demand to see your card, not just a number written on a piece of paper or given from memory. There is too much chance for error unless the number is copied directly from the card," he said.

There is no age limit for the issuance of a social security card.

THE FROG

Roger Kids His Patrons

PARIS — Roger Spinhirny, better known as "Roger the Frog," is a restaurant owner who makes a good living out of insulting his customers.

He's one of the few, too, who opens his kitchen to anybody too poor to pay, such as hard-up youngsters and students in the neighborhood.

Roger has seated late arriving ambassadors and movie stars in the kitchen and had them like it. He's kissed a good half of his women customers with the boy friend looking on laughing.

He's torn up orders and served what he thinks they ought to have. He has put almost every customer on the spot at one time or another.

Most of them love it. Those who don't, don't go back.

Favorite Since 1930.

His place, the "Grenouille" (frog) at 28 rue des Grands Augustins, in the heart of the Latin Quarter, has been a favorite since he opened it in 1930.

Roger was born in Paris in 1901. He grew up the hard way, an orphan. After World War I, he worked in the Ritz hotel restaurant. Later he moved over to "Chez Rouzier" on the Place St. Michel.

By 1930 he had some money of his own. He decided to open a restaurant and run it in a way which combined all the things he'd been bawled out for doing at the Ritz and Rouzier.

Instead of going broke, he thrived. People have been packing the place since opening day.

The highest priced dish on his menu is 200 francs (about 70 cents). Lobster, sold by the weight, might run up to 300 francs, but that's the ceiling.

Frogs legs, which he frequently forces on you whether you like them or not, are 150 francs.

Customers at the Grenouille get only two kinds of wine, one red and one white. If they want a long list to choose from, Roger tells them to go elsewhere. They stay. His flat price is 225 francs a bottle.

Antiques on Wall, Too.

To most customers, the Grenouille looks more like an antique shop than a restaurant. Among the hundred-odd items hanging from the ceiling, all with their own story, are a French horn, a cow bell, a horse's mane, a bunch of onions and a woman's hat. The walls are plastered with clippings, diplomas and pictures.

Lunch begins at 12:30 and lasts as late as 4. Dinner starts at 6 and goes on until 1 a. m. Throughout both, Roger, dressed in an open shirt and a waist apron, moves from table to table shouting orders, cracking jokes, insulting customers, and making them explain to everybody there who the young lady is.

Roger's final gesture is reserved for the ladies. As they leave he offers them one of his green miniature frogs, his trade mark.

They can have it, he tells them, for a kiss of thanks on the cheek. He poses his cheek, they bend over to kiss. In a lightning move Roger smacks them squarely on the lips.

He says only one woman has ever seriously objected to his trickery, and the rest of the customers were so enraged they nearly threw her out.

Police Discover De Luxe Hobo Hotel in Basement of Station

NEW ORLEANS. — Police found out that they had a hobo hotel in their basement and have been furnishing all utilities for the knights of the road.

For months, and possibly years, "guys on the lam" and ordinary bums have been holing up literally under the first precinct station.

Their lease was broken without an extension clause and the hoboes plan to go back to the park.

The hide-out was complete with electric light, running water and steam heat.

A "royal suite" was reserved for one "Carolina Slim," a claimant to the King-of-the-Hoboes crown.

On his visits to New Orleans, Slim set up court on a divan with an electric floor lamp, while police officials tramped around overhead. Slim found it expedient not to complain about the noise.

The hoboes had tapped police power lines to get electricity for their lights. They cut into police water pipes for running water, although they weren't much interested in baths.

They tapped the police station steam lines to warm themselves in the winter.

Veteran Pilot Tells How To Prevent Air Crashes

WICHITA, KAN. — Larry A. Enzinger, who has been a pilot half of his 48 years, completed 10,000 hours in the air without an accident of any sort.

He attributes his spotless safety record—he actually knocks on wood when talking about it—to four factors:

- 1—Considering safety first.
- 2—Taking good care of equipment.
- 3—Understanding weather.
- 4—Good luck.

"Weather kills more people in the air than all other factors put together," the veteran pilot says.

Crow Steals Car Keys

BABYLON, N. Y.—James A. Rodgers got too friendly with a talking crow.

Rodgers explained it this way to Babylon police:

He and his wife saw the crow on the curb as they left a drug-store.

"Hello," said the crow.

"Hello," answered Rodgers.

To lure the crow closer, he took out the case containing his car keys, drivers license and car registration.

"He dangled the keys in front of the bird, which suddenly grabbed them and flew away. The keys still haven't been found.

Police Reject Wanted Man as Too Expensive

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. — Randolph Ward Aldridge was wanted by police in Honolulu and in Memphis, Tenn., but now that they know where he is, they don't want him.

The 32-year-old man with an international criminal record is in a Minneapolis hospital with a broken back. Authorities say he'll never walk again. But he is costing the hospital more than $500 per month.

Detective Inspector Eugene Bernath said the hospital would be "glad to get him off its hands."

Ambulance transportation and that $500 a month are a little more than the authorities are willing to pay to prosecute the man on charges including bigamy, obtaining money under false pretenses, cashing a bad check and breaking probation.

Bernath said Aldridge was in an automobile accident near the town of Minnetonka, Minn., where he had run a radio repair shop and garage.

He talked his way into a local hospital by telling authorities he had a multimillionaire brother-in-law in Hollywood who would foot the bill. He entered the hospital as "Ralph Collins."

It turned out that the brother-in-law was nonexistent and there was no one to pay the bill.

Aldridge was convicted of manslaughter in Hawaii under the name of Aldridge and married his third wife—no divorces recorded for the first two—in Memphis under the name of Ernest Craig Hunt, a dead World War II veteran.

So until someone decides that Randolph Ward Ralph Ernest Craig Hunt Collins Aldridge should be moved elsewhere for criminal prosecution, the hospital will foot the bill.

Veteran Who Offered Eye as Gift Loses It in Accident

LOUISVILLE, KY.—Chester R. Perkins, blind Indianapolis war veteran, wrote "Santa Claus" that he wanted "two shiny blue eyes" for Christmas.

The appeal was answered by Fred F. Wempe, a Louisville veteran, who offered one of his eyes. But doctors told Wempe that an eye transplantation would not help Perkins.

But Wempe's offer still stood. He said any war-blinded veteran who needed one of his eyes should write him. There were no takers.

One day Wempe reached to adjust a flapping window shade. The roller came loose and struck him in the eye.

Lying in the darkness of Nichols Veterans' hospital, Wempe heard the doctors say his eye must be removed.

Auto With Two Front Ends Gets OK From Patrolman

DES MOINES, IA. — Patrolman Frank Manny blinked when he spotted a car that looked like it was going in two directions.

The car had two front ends and two steering wheels with a man sitting at each wheel.

Manny checked to find that the car consisted of the front ends of two 1929 Ford sedans which had been welded together. It had only one motor and only one steering wheel worked.

The three youths in the car explained the car had been fixed up to "look modernistic."

They were allowed to continue on their way toward California. The boys are Dick Wood, 20, Baldwin, Mich., and Charles Breed, 21, and his brother, Sterling, 19, both of Paw Paw, Mich.

'Rocking Chair Battalion' Holds Its Own in Job Market

ALBANY, N. Y. — A man who should know says grandpa is doing all right on the job he took during the war and isn't ready to give it up without a struggle.

Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, chairman of the late joint legislative committee on problems of the aging, so announced after a survey of industries employing 525,000 workers.

"World War II, by bringing the rocking chair battalion back to work, restored the self-confidence of the elderly and gave them back their self-esteem," Desmond said.

"They had the know-how and gladly grabbed at the chance to get back in harness. And now, even though three years have gone by since the war ended, the elderly are clinging tenaciously to their jobs."

SHORT STORY

Poachers Outwitted

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

IT HAPPENED that young Glen Lloyd was the only warden on duty when Chief Fred Mather received word that poachers were doing a wholesale business in moose meat up in Birchill county. Glen was a rookie on the job. As yet he'd had no contact with either the hardships or the dangers of a north woods game warden. Chief Mather decided to use discretion.

"You go up there and do some reconnoitering," he told the youth.

"You'll find a base camp under a cliff near the headwaters of the Beaver."

Make this your headquarters until Warden Loomis arrives. He'll tell you how to proceed."

Chief Mather drummed with his pencil. "Don't take any chances, son. I've an idea that Moe Stanford's behind this ring. He's a bad actor."

Glen reached the base camp two days later. The ground was covered with a six-inch fall of snow.

Glen waited two days more and then decided to take matters into his own hands. Armed with his service pistol and a flashlight he concealed himself near the tote road on top of a ridge where the progress of the truck would have to be slow. It was bitterly cold and a brisk wind was blowing. Also there was the promise of snow in the air.

Midnight came and went and Glen's spirits ebbed low. Cursing himself for delaying action, Glen was about to quit his hiding place when he heard distantly the roar of an automobile motor.

He waited until the driver was shifting gears for the final pull, then stepped out into the glare of the lights. He held his gun in one hand. The badge on his sheepskin coat was plainly visible.

Instead of stopping, the driver bore down on the accelerator. The truck roared straight at the warden. Glen stepped to one side, barely avoiding being hit, and as the heavy machine lumbered by he swung himself onto the running board. He clung there perilously for a moment, then something hit him on the head, he heard an angry curse, and went spinning of into space.

Fifteen minutes later he emerged on to the same tote road where it doubled back on itself. The lights from the truck were already sweeping up the incline.

GLEN CROUCHED behind a boulder, glad that the darkness was so intense. He waited until the truck had crawled by, then ran after it. He caught the tailboard and hoisted himself up. Two men were standing up front, leaning over the cab. The noise of the motor had drowned out sounds of his approach.

Reversing his service gun, Glen crept up behind the men, felled one of them and grappled with the other. The scuffle was short-lived. Taken completely by surprise the poacher was at a disadvantage. Stunned by the blow which he tried to dodge, he fell against the cab and slumped to his knees when Glen struck out a second time.

The warden handcuffed the two men to an upright in the truck, then approached the cab. There was a small window in its rear. Through this Glen thrust his gun, splintering the glass. The two men inside turned to find themselves staring into the gun's muzzle.

When Chief Mather heard the story he wrote a personal letter to Supervisor Horrick, complimenting the supervisor on his choice of men.

Glenn followed the tracks until they turned into a country road.

Auto Thief Stumbles Into State Police Convention

HENDERSON, KY. — If a mouse blundered into a convention of cats, it wouldn't be any more surprising than what happened here.

Oscar Proffitt, 29, of Henderson, accused of stealing a truck in Evansville, Ind., drove up in front of a hotel here just as 150 police officers and sheriffs adjourned the morning session of the Kentucky Peace Officers association.

News of the theft had reached Henderson officers in the meeting just a split second earlier. They arrested Proffitt—with an enthusiastic gallery—on a charge of violating the Dyer act, interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle.

Fancy Spices Are Again Available At Grocery Stores

NEW YORK — The American housewife is spice conscious again for the first time since great-grandmother disguised jerked venison with a judicious measurement of fennel.

For more years than a gourmet likes to contemplate, the cooks of the nation just reached for salt and pepper shakers when the recipe called for seasoning. Now they are blossoming out with a spice shelf of some 200-odd spices, all in prominent places.

Women who previously knew only of cloves for ham and cinnamon for toast, now can discuss items like "ardamon," "coriander," "mace," and even "fenu-greek."

The spices are back in the United States market in pre-war plenty—except pepper.

Peppercorns, mostly grown in the Netherlands East Indies and India, are real war casualties. The world's supply has been cut from a prewar 182 million pounds to an estimated 60 million this year.

The United States will get most of the world's production.

Spice for the home kitchen currently runs alphabetically from allspice to turmeric.

'Second' Heart Saves Patients From Death

CHICAGO.—More than 100 patients have been saved from bleeding to death on the operating table and others near death from injuries have been restored to life by giving them a second heart temporarily.

The method was reported by Dr. Irvine H. Page of the Cleveland Clinic foundation.

A dog that had stopped breathing for eight minutes, as well as other dogs apparently dead for shorter times, were restored to life by the second heart.

The second heart consists simply of a transfusion of blood under pressure into an artery. Blood transfusions ordinarily are given into a vein without pressure.

When a patient has lost a large amount of blood or is in shock from other causes, his blood pressure is so low that the heart cannot pump blood into the body quickly enough, Dr. Page explained.

Giving the blood transfusion directly into the artery under pressure primes the pump and starts it going again.

Patients who have stopped breathing will take a deep breath instantly when the blood starts going into their arteries under pressure.

Thirty Per Cent of Homes In U. S. Lack Private Baths

CHICAGO. — Three out of 10 American homes do not have private baths and private flush toilets, according to the 1948 Britannica Book of the Year, and two out of 10 do not have running water.

The situation has improved, however, since 1940, when only 55.7 per cent of American dwelling units had private baths and private flush toilets. In that year, 70.4 per cent were provided with running water.

Comparing rural and urban conditions, the Book of the Year reveals that although 84.3 per cent of the urban homes had private baths and toilets in 1947, 57.3 per cent of rural non-farm units were equipped with them and only 21.9 per cent of rural farm homes included these conveniences.

Slightly more than 4 per cent of the city homes lacked running water, but of all the rural farm homes, nearly two-thirds had no running water.

Archery Expert Disclaims Indians' Skill With Bows

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. — Indians of the pioneer days were bum shots with the bow and arrow, an archery expert insists.

"The arrows of the American Indian were not straight," said Harold E. Kenney, University of Illinois professor. "They weren't balanced and they didn't match. Their bows were too short."

They managed to become skillful hunters only because they could sneak up close to an animal before opening fire, he says.

Top-notch archers today could shoot the loin cloth off the Indians of old, Kenney adds.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Will Sell Buddy Poppies Here Saturday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sequoia Post No. 4551 and its Ladies Auxiliary will conduct its annual Poppy Day sale, Saturday, May 21.

The Buddy Poppies are the handiwork of Veterans who are still confined to government hospitals. The proceeds of the sale are used entirely for veteran welfare in the following manner:

"About two thirds of the funds raised will remain in Antioch to aid needy veterans and their dependents."

"A portion will be paid to the disabled veterans who made the poppies."

"One cent per poppy sold will be used to help maintain the V. F. W. National Home for war orphans and widows at Eaton Rapids, Mich."

"One and one-half cents per poppy will be used in maintaining the V. F. W. National Rehabilitation Service, a service dedicated to aiding all veterans with their problems, and to acting as a means of contact between veterans and veterans administration."

"This is the 28th consecutive year in which the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy has been sold nationally as a means of aiding the needy ones who made sacrifices in our nation's wars."

There is no set price for the poppies. Each citizen is asked to contribute what he feels he can afford for the cause of disabled and needy veterans and those who suffered most from the ravages of war.

Molasses For Steers

Steer-fattening tests by the Louisiana State university experiment station showed that molasses has an average feeding value of around 85 per cent that of corn when fed at the rate of four to eight pounds a day—about one-third to two-thirds of a gallon—along with cottonseed meal and other concentrates. Other experiments at the station showed that molasses could profitably be fed to work mules at the rate of two to three quarts daily and in these amounts was almost equal to corn.

Fire Hits U. S. Economy

Thirty-six conflagrations causing estimated damage of a million dollars or more each broke out during 1948, destroying huge stores of food, clothing, lumber, valuable machinery, and other irreplaceable material.

Foot, Mouth Disease
As one of the world's most contagious and devastating maladies, foot-and-mouth disease is a serious threat to the livestock and food resources of all nations. It attacks mainly cattle, swine, sheep and goats, but also affects other cloven-footed animals. Except for nine outbreaks of limited duration, the United States successfully has maintained its freedom from this foreign plague. It has done so largely through preventive measures applied by the bureau of animal industry.

Half Carry Insurance
Latest statistics show that there are more than 71 million life insurance policy owners in the United States, or half the population.

Poison for Protection
The skunk's scent is his one means of protection. Neither his teeth nor his claws are fierce enough to protect him from danger. He is low-slung and slow of foot, mild-tempered and quiet. The scent is poisonous if inhaled and weakens the heart action, even causing unconsciousness and death. The scent also may cause permanent blindness, and in rare cases death.

WEEDS AND PESTS TAKE A LICKING WHEN YOU USE A MASSEY-HARRIS NO. 2 SPRAYER

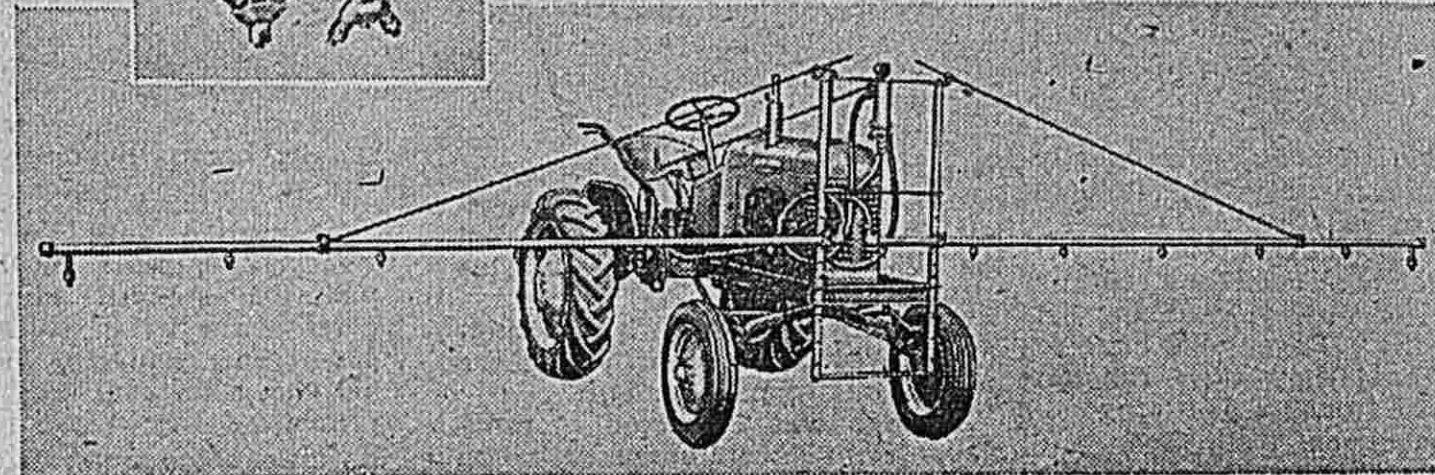

. . . and the result is clean, high yielding fields . . . crops that produce better because they're stronger, healthier. In the new Massey-Harris No. 2 low gallonage Sprayer you have a front-mounted tool custom designed to reduce weed, insect and cultivating expense.

The pump on the No. 2 is P.T.O. driven . . . small, compact, out of the way. Made of bronze it resists corrosion, lasts longer. You control pump and boom pressure right from your place on the tractor seat. Booms are specially toughened aluminum, 20 or 30 feet long, with nozzles spaced 20 inches apart. Nozzles are of all brass with removable tips and screens . . . the bases remain in the boom. Ample filtering capacity means reduced clogging, fewer stops in the field.

Stop in soon for complete details. Let's talk over this new method of applying 2, 4-D and D.D.T.

Special corn drops with reversible nozzle adapters are available for spraying row crops with 2, 4-D or D.D.T.

Sylvester Says:

"You've got a choice here!" The only country in the world where you can still choose your own style of clothing; choose to build a home of your own; choose the materials and location. Take away the right to choose, to select, and to own and you destroy democracy. On a nationwide scale here's how Americans choose to spend their incomes.

They spend four times more for food than they do for housing and rent. They spend 1 1/2 times more for clothing and 1 1/4 times more for household expenses. They spend as much on liquor and tobacco as they do on homes and they spend twice as much for liquor, tobacco, travel, entertainment, horseracing, cosmetics and other things rarely referred to as necessities than they do on housing.

It's a great country. You still have a chance to choose between freedom and government-controlled regimentation.

LAKE VILLA

The Lake Villa Community Men's club observed Ladies night at their meeting at the school gym last week Tuesday night with 40 men with their wives attending. Following the roast beef dinner served by the W. S. C. S. the group enjoyed a program consisting of solos by Frank Jacobs, of Lake Villa, baton twirling by Miss Morley, of Waukegan and movies. Lester Hamlin who served as president last year was presented with a trophy in appreciation of his services. The public library sponsored by the Men's club is getting finishing touches and will soon be ready for the opening.

Mrs. Carl Reinebach was in Chicago last Thursday shopping for the store.

Waukegan shoppers last week were Mrs. Ruth Haley, Mrs. Stella Pedersen, Mrs. Neil Reidel, Mrs. Marie Hamlin and Mrs. Etta Sciacero.

A miniature railway and other pieces of equipment for a children's playground is being set up by Mr. Sherry, just west of the railroad tracks on Grand Ave., and will be ready soon.

Mrs. Anna Pierce, who has been with her niece, Mrs. Frank Hamlin, for several weeks, has returned to her home in Chicago.

The plans for the Sports and Home show to be held in Lake Villa during the week of June 20 to 26 are going on and the underpass which connects the picnic ground and the beach is nearing completion. There will be booths for many exhibits, Boy Scout hobby and Juvenile Red Cross, besides many exhibits for sports and home.

Carl J. Miller, 67, local painter and house decorator, who has spent his entire life in and near Lake Villa passed away very suddenly of a heart ailment at his home on Burnett Ave., late last Friday afternoon, after having spent the day at work with his partner Al Boehm. He had complained of not feeling well during the day and Mr. Boehm took him home early in the afternoon. His son, Carl, Jr., and wife Shirley came to his home early in the evening and found him slumped on the sofa, and called the inhalator squad, but he had been dead for some time. He was the youngest son of Henry and Margaret Miller, pioneer residents of Sand Lake, and where he was born. Only one brother, Will Miller, who lives on the home farm, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Murrie, of Waukegan are left of his family. Two brothers, Fred and Jay Miller passed away some time ago. He leaves two sons, Clarence, of Chicago and Carl Jr., of Lake Villa, his two daughters-in-law and three grandchildren. Funeral services conducted by Rev. T. E. Rodd, of Lake Villa were conducted at the Strang Funeral home in Antioch on Monday afternoon and burial was in the Lake Villa cemetery.

A TOUCH on the handle—and a wide front door swings open on a prospect full of invitation.

There's a wheel that seems actually eager for the touch of your hand.

There's a broad 63-inch seat cushion, comfortably angled, soft and inviting, and only a hand's width narrower than a full-size parlor sofa.

There are narrower corner posts hardly wider than the space between your eyes, so plenty easy to see around—and there's a broad, sweeping, full-curved windshield spreading a horizon-wide view before your eyes.

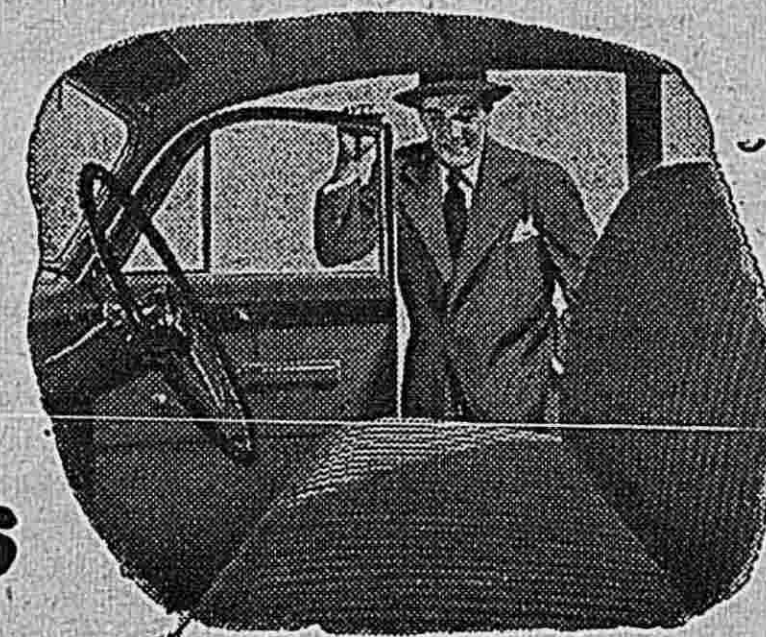

There's a gas treadle that flicks into instant life the great power of a big Fireball power plant. Under the wheel there can be a Dynaflex selector lever you set once and then forget through all normal forward driving.

*Dynaflex Drive is optional at extra cost on all Buick SUPER models. Standard equipment on all ROADMASTERS.

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLEX DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area
SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • Buoyant-riding QUADREFLEX COIL SPRINGING
"LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Cruiser-Line VENTIPORTS
DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS
Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-8 POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS
plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • BODY BY FISHER

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

And wrapping it all up in one stunningly beautiful picture of top-drawer travel is modern styling in the good Buick manner—sleek lines, bright chrome, the instant identification of gleaming Ventiports.

Here's five-feet-plus of deep-seated comfort—an outlook that brings the whole landscape indoors—handsome lines that draw admiring glances anywhere—what else is needed to settle your mind on this one?

Two things, probably. A little spin with yourself behind the wheel just to take this honey's measure. A look at the price tags and a bit of mental comparisons just to prove how big a buy it is.

For both you have only to see your Buick dealer—who will be pleased to demonstrate, pleased to talk price—and pleased to take your order for surprisingly early delivery.

NARCOTICS

Tiny Woman Nabs Thugs

NEW YORK. — Kathryn Barry works from 10 to 18 hours a day, is plenty scared lots of times, shivers miserably in the streets on wintry days, and frequently is forced to wear disreputable looking clothes.

And if you think she feels sorry for herself, you're off the beam. She wouldn't trade her job as a detective, second grade, in the New York City police department's narcotics division for any other job.

"I like my work and I'm glad to help catch these narcotics sellers," Miss Barry said at police headquarters.

On one arrest Miss Barry and four male detectives had a rough time in rounding up their victims. While the other detectives were collaring two men, Miss Barry guarded a third, who was driving a car. He tried to drive off, but she clung to the running-board of the car, fought off his punches as he tried to shove her off, and quelled him by flashing her gun.

Weights 125 Pounds.

Although a good scrapper in a pinch, Miss Barry is only 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, and has steady blue eyes and a pleasant, soft pitched voice. She can get along fine on four hours' sleep a night, she says, so, winding up her working day anywhere between 3 and 6 a. m. is no hardship. On her weekends she relaxes with her favorite pastimes of golf and bridge.

Miss Barry has been in the police department since 1939, joining in the middle of training for her first rather reluctantly chosen career-teaching.

Her first assignment was with the bureau of police women. She went from there to the juvenile aid bureau, then to the sabotage squad, doing undercover work during the war years, and finally to her present post.

Miss Barry always works with a male partner on a case, separating from him only when it is necessary to do so in order to trail someone. The nature of their job determines whether they'll be working in their car, on foot or in subways or cabs. In the car she carries three changes of clothes and two wigs.

Scared Most of the Time.

Asked if she ever was scared, Miss Barry grinned.

"Truthfully, yes — about 90 per cent of the time. But it's mostly when everything is all over. That's the time I get shaky. It's been tough and go several times. Once we were after two men who had big connections in narcotics. One was a prize fighter and the other was 6 feet 3 inches and weighed about 250 pounds. One attempted a break, but then he stopped. He said he was more nervous with a woman than a man because he knew a woman was sure to shoot."

Occasionally comedy has mixed with peril in her career, and Miss Barry didn't mind telling a joke on herself.

"One time we were waiting to enter an apartment and someone came out of another place," she related. "I ducked behind a door and landed below in a coal heap. I showed up really in disguise — blackface."

French Newspaper Chastises People for Lack of Manners

PARIS.—It's a sad state of affairs when Frenchmen have to be reminded one never kisses the hand of a lady in the street, and never, never blows one's nose during a meal.

That's the opinion of the weekly newspaper, France Dimanche, which sadly admits that French manners aren't what they used to be.

"The exquisite politeness for which the Frenchman used to be famous abroad is nothing more than a memory now," the paper moans.

Some of the taboos:

Never offer jewels to a married woman without first getting her husband's approval.

In drinking, keep your eyes on the bottom of your glass and never on your neighbors.

Don't dunk your bread in your coffee, blow on your soup or blow your nose during a meal.

It is bad taste to bring flowers to your hostess. One gives the impression of wanting to pay one's check in advance.

And, of course, kissing hands on the street is definitely out. Whether the lady wears gloves or not has no bearing.

Photographer Saves Eyes of Diver From Serious Injuries

BALTIMORE.—Fritz Dorsh, deep-sea diver, can see today because of the heroism of a Baltimore press photographer.

The photographer, A. Aubrey Bodine, is nursing second-degree burns of his "shutter hand."

Dorsh, encased in his deep-sea helmet, was preparing to descend into Baltimore harbor when someone handed him a lighted cigarette.

The cigarette ignited the oxygen in Dorsh's diving suit just as Bodine snapped his camera shutter.

The photographer dropped his camera and thrust his hand into the blazing helmet to save Dorsh's eyes.

SHORT STORY

No Regrets

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

VALERIA'S AFFAIR with Eliot Harvey had proved extremely gratifying. After all, Eliot was the most handsome and the most glamorous man at Newtane Lake, and the confession of his love had rather flattered her vanity. But the duration had been brief. Two months, to be exact. She had smiled a little wistfully the night she handed back his ring.

"It's been swell fun, Eliot, but it can't last. The feeling's alone on the surface. It isn't real."

"Not real?" He stared at her, unbelieving. "Good Lord, Val—" But she interrupted him with a gesture of finality.

"It's no use, Eliot. You're far too glamorous and handsome to fall in love. I tried hard, but it didn't work." She patted his hand maternally. "Summer romances are fun, and this has been the best ever. No regrets."

A hurt look came into his eyes, to be replaced an instant later by exaggerated indifference. He tossed the ring, caught it, pocketed it. "O. K., sister. I guess I can stand it. His eyes held that smug, 'it's-your-funeral' look that so fitted his role. She felt released, free again. When Doug Metcalf asked her to attend the Country Club ball with him she accepted without qualms of conscience. Doug was big and homely.

"Thought there was no harm in asking," he grinned. "You won't find me as spectacular as Eliot."

He looked at her curiously, seemed on the point of asking a question and thought better of it. She knew that he, like everyone else, was wondering if her heart was broken. Well, let them find out for themselves. Their pity annoyed her. Who was this Eliot Harvey, a god or something?

The night of the ball, dancing with Doug Metcalf, she saw Eliot floating by with Sheelah Jackson. He was looking down into her upturned face, oblivious to everything else. Valeria felt a little pang, and impatient at herself, gave her attention to Doug. Doug was watching her and there was worship in his eyes.

They found a vacant bench behind some shrubbery and Valeria sat down.

SHE WAS DANCING a dreamy waltz with Doug when Eliot cut in. Surprised, she found herself in his arms scarcely before his familiar features became recognizable.

"Well, well, well. Look who's here! How's the Don Juan of Newtane?"

"Val, let's go out and get a punch." His tone was almost harsh. Valeria hesitated. "All right," she said. "I could use something like that. It's been a destructive evening. I'm worn out."

They moved into the alcove where the drinks were being served. He led her beyond and through French doors that opened onto the terrace. The place was crowded, but they found a vacant bench behind some shrubbery, and Valeria sat down. It was good to sit. Eliot bent over her.

"Listen, Val, I can't stand it! I've been crazy ever since you gave me back the ring. I'm going mad. You've got to come back to me!"

Amazed, she stared up at him. His eyes were bulging, his mouth open, his hands shaking. No longer the confident Don Juan, the breaker of women's hearts, "Eliot, your drunk!"

"I'm not! Val, don't you see I'm not! Don't you see how much I love you!" He dropped down beside her, and suddenly his head was against her breast. He wept.

Val was frightened and bewildered. So all his indifference, his casual acceptance of her decision to break their engagement, his interest in Sheelah Jackson—it had all been pretense! A sham! A mask! An attempt to maintain his Don Juan standing, to nourish his pride and vanity and conceit.

She stood up, suddenly contemptuous, ashamed of her own doubt, disgusted with his weakness. She looked down at him, without pity or compassion or regret, turned away and went eagerly back to find dependable Doug.

$3,094,000

U. S. Seizes Fake Money

WASHINGTON.—More than two-thirds of the $3,094,000 in counterfeit American money seized in the last year was made in Europe, the secret service reported. It was the biggest volume of seizures since the service was created in 1865.

James J. Maloney, chief of the secret service, said in a report to John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury, that over two-thirds of the imitation currency was grabbed at Marseilles, France.

Maloney reported that "by far the greatest enforcement problem" now is the theft and forgery of government checks — mostly tax refunds — and savings bonds. More than 32,000 forged checks and 11,000 forged bonds were received for investigation.

The millions of taxpayers who expect refunds and those who regularly receive government checks for other purposes, were urged to watch their mail boxes carefully. Merchants were asked to demand positive identification before cashing checks.

Make Big Haul.

Fake United States currency amounting to $2,145,200 was seized in a large plant in Marseilles by U. S. secret service agents and French police. Twelve counterfeiters now await trial in French courts. Other foreign seizures totaled $201,596. Only $42,566 got into circulation here, mostly through immigrants who bought it in good faith overseas.

Domestic counterfeiting also increased, but not alarmingly. Some $747,434 in home-made bills and coins were captured. All but $100,000 worth was seized before it could be passed. The secret service arrested 2,278 persons in the year, including 1,964 for check and bond forgery and 159 for counterfeiting.

Other arrests included nine men in Florida and Georgia who proved also to be stolen-car racketeers. This haul brought in $60,000 in counterfeit notes as well as a quantity of stolen New Jersey auto-registration certificates. The defendants were sentenced to terms ranging from three to seven years each.

Question Suspect.

One bond-forgery case developed odd quirks. Maloney related these details: Agents from Los Angeles questioned Roy L. Bowman, gas station owner at Madera, Calif., as to what he knew about some United States savings bonds stolen in Avondale, Colo., in a safe burglary.

The questioning had hardly begun when Bowman interrupted with: "Okay, boys, I knew you'd catch up with me as soon as you nabbed Billy Williams." He thereupon confessed to forging bonds given him by Williams. The agents had no idea who Williams was, but set out to find him.

With only the name to guide them, they canvassed California hotels and tourist camps, finally locating Williams and his 17-year-old wife in Fresno. When questioned about the bonds, Williams made the same mistake as Bowman. He thought the agents knew all about his career of crime and confessed a trail of burglaries and bond forgeries over most of the United States. Both men are awaiting trial.

Political Candidate Tests Oratory on Bandit But Fails

VENTURA, CALIF.—Republican Assembly Candidate Charles Teague had a chance to test his oratory and lost.

Teague and his wife were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Price of Ojai. Together with the Charles Raymonds they were playing cards when a masked youth burst into the room armed with a small-bore rifle.

The youth demanded that the card players toss their wallets to him.

Teague, a Ventura attorney, started to talk. He tried to persuade the teenage intruder to mend his ways. He told the boy that it was not too late to avoid a life of crime.

The boy pondered Teague's words for a few minutes and then decided he liked banditry better. He departed with three wallets containing $150.

Hit by Bottle, Wrestling Fan Is Awarded Damages by Court

RICHMOND, VA.—The state supreme court of appeals is pondering this one.

A Norfolk circuit court awarded Mrs. Virginia G. Cox, a wrestling fan, $1,500 damages from Bill Lewis, promoter, because Mrs. Cox was struck in the head by a whisky bottle while watching a match.

Mrs. Cox claimed damages because she said she was struck with the flying bottle after the audience became aroused when a wrestler, Jimmy Coffield stuck his opponent with a pin.

She charged that Lewis should not have permitted such conduct in the ring.

Lewis appealed with the defense that he had tried to keep bottles out of the auditorium. His petition also said Mrs. Cox should have realized "that wrestling matches are not tea parties."

Twins

Visit Come By Chance

COME BY CHANCE, NEWFOUNDLAND.—A likelier spot than this couldn't have been found for the infant children of Mrs. Edward Carroll of Placentia, Newfoundland.

As the Newfoundland Express left Gander, Mrs. Carroll, a passenger, informed Porter Leo Murphy that "I am going to have a baby." He toured the train and came back with Dr. Ian Fraser. They made hasty preparations and a few minutes later a boy was born.

Half an hour later the boy had a twin sister.

And not long after that, the train pulled into Come By Chance, where the family was transferred to a hospital. They're all doing fine.

John, the Monkey, Outsmarts John, The Scientist

LEXINGTON, KY.—John, a wily monkey, is making University of Kentucky scientists wish they never heard of Darwin.

John, and his mate, Phyllis, were living a happy life in a cage in the biological science building, just minding their own monkey business. Then John decided to take off.

Since then scientists have been trying to lure John back home. But John won't lure. His favorite hideaway is the home of Dr. John M. Edney of the university zoological department.

Edney tried to persuade John to hit the road. But John isn't fazed by the gentle brushoff. He has decided to stay.

Edney tried whisky, hoping to get John pie-eyed and then cart him back home.

A true Kentuckian, John loved the bourbon. He lapped it up. But like a good toper, he didn't pass out.

Subtlety and underhanded methods failing, Edney chose brute force. He laid down shiny traps throughout the yard and garden.

Behind hidden doors, Edney and the neighbors waited, tense with anticipation. It looked as though John was ready to be sprung.

Cautiously, John approached a trap, fascinated by man's skillful contrivance. He sniffed at it. Gingerly, he put his paw into a spring. With a flicker of defiance, a gesture of derision, he released the spring.

Then he scampered off, still free.

Frenchmen Want Law Altered So Matadors May Kill Bulls

JUAN-LES-PINS, FRANCE.—The bull fight season has reopened on the French Riviera for the first time since the war.

Killing of bulls in a ring is forbidden by French law. However, there is a strong movement in this part of France to rescind the law.

Before the war, killings often took place in the ancient Roman arenas of Prejus.

Like the Spaniards, French bull fighters wear gorgeous comic opera costumes. But they do not use such weapons as short swords and gilded spikes. They just mark the bulls with colored "Cocardees," which are not stuck into the animal but are simply pasted on his hide with glue.

France's bull fight fans now object to this and demand the same type of fights that are held in Spain — including the killing of the bull.

Housing Problem? U. S. Offers To Rent West Indies Hotel

WASHINGTON.—Bluebeard's Castle, famed hotel in the Virgin Islands, is for rent or sale, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug said.

It is already a money-making proposition. Secretary Krug said the present lessees, who have been paying the department of the interior an annual rental of $3,000 plus 50 per cent of the net profits, paid $18,000 in such fees last year. However, the department wants the project expanded for the good of the island tourist industry.

The hotel was built in 1934, as a $300,000 public works administration project, around an ancient watchtower at Charlotte Amalie, on St. Thomas island. The tower, according to legend, was Caribbean headquarters for a pirate known as Bluebeard.

'Shirt-Sleeved' Postman Retires After 41 Years

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.—San Antonio's shirt-sleeved walking man has retired.

He is George J. Krawitz, 70-year-old postman, who hung up his mail pouch for the last time after 41 years of delivering the mail.

Krawitz became known as "the iron man of the postoffice" because of his custom of always reporting for duty wearing a shirt with rolled up sleeves.

The "iron man" would make his route that way — in all kinds of weather — his shirt dripping wet or his bare arms covered with snow.

Apparently such light attire has been healthful. During 41 years of delivering the mail, Krawitz never missed a day because of illness. At the time of retirement he had 263 days accumulated sick leave.

Mississippi River

There probably has been no major investment made by the United States that is contributing so much to the development of the Mississippi valley and to Iowa as the system of locks and dams on the upper Mississippi river. It is now realized that when the government spent approximately $150,000,000 on the canalization of the Mississippi it made possible the utilization of a magnificent river which now is contributing to a central states prosperity that seems to have no bounds. There are 20 locks and dams.

Peruvian Price Bulge

American tourists returning from vacations in Peru come home with their baggage bulging with presents, Peruvian International Airways reports. Reasons: Peruvian silver, textiles and pottery purchasable at a third of what they would cost here, plus a new duty-free exemption of $400 for U. S. citizens.
